

Facilitator eCourse

The RetroVET Facilitator e-course is an innovative, interactive digital training course aimed at upskilling VET staff who act as green skills and knowledge mentors to VET learners.

The e-Course supports VET trainers and practitioners to understand how to effectively apply their contextual green approach, while taking into consideration the overarching green strategy to the VET course, and each of the learners, their situations, and existing knowledge and skills.

What is it for?

The eCourse facilitates VET practitioners and trainers to encourage and enhance the green skills and knowledge among VET learners, based on the institution's overall green elements.

which is the Target?

The target group are teachers, trainers, practitioners, managers in VET training institutions and other interested people in the VET field wanting to reflect on their own green approach.

The RetroVET project

The RetroVET project, funded by the EU, takes the idea of the Green Deal and adapts it to the reality of education and training centres. It helps VET centres reflect on their provision and job trainings with the aim of meeting the needs of the future European labour market, increasing long-term employability and sustainability while developing and promoting, at the same time, a green culture among VET institutions.
